If you want to know more about how imatch uses personal data and its conduct with regard to privacy, you can consult our privacy notice at the address <https://www.imatch.pt>.

4 How do we collect personal data

Personal data is collected and processed if the data is voluntarily transferred by the participant to the organizer, if the participant registers for the event on the Beamian platform, or when accessing directly to the event platform, Grip, and completing their profile.

5 For what purposes and on what legal basis can your personal data be used

According to the data protection legislation in force in the European Union (the General Data Protection Regulation) the use of personal data must be justified under at least one legal basis for the processing of personal data.

Below we will inform you of each of the purposes for which your data may be used and the grounds of lawfulness that legitimize such use.

We use your information to run Building The Future event, when registering participants and to issue tickets and credentials. Such data processing activities are necessary for the performance of the contract you entered into with us when registering for Building The Future 2026.

The personal data collected at the time of registration, in addition to being used to register for the event itself, indicates event contents that may be of interest to you and send communications related to Building The Future 2026 itself. The data may also be used to related statistical analyses. For these analyses, however, the data will be completely anonymized.

We also use your personal information before, during or after the Building The Future event to communicate with you. Such communications may have different purposes and different legal grounds, which are better described below:

We may send communications via email and/or SMS about the Building The Future 2026 event itself, such as meeting recommendations, newsletters, conference schedules, among others. As this information is related to the event you signed up for, we consider that you are within your expectations of receiving such information, so for this purpose, your data will be used based on our legitimate interest. However, if it is not in your interest to receive such communications, you can always request to cancel your subscription by clicking on the link at the bottom of each message or by sending an email to privacy@imatch.pt.

We may also use your contact data to send you communications about other events held by imatch that you may be interested in. However, for these communications the legal basis will always be your consent. If you consent and, however, at some point you no longer wish to receive communications from us, you may also request the cancellation of your subscription by clicking on the link at the bottom of each message or by sending an email to privacy@imatch.pt.

Building The Future event may be recorded by means of photographs, audio recordings, and/or videos. Such photographs and recordings may subsequently appear on the Building The Future website, other relevant websites, on social media, in the press, or in promotional materials (such as BTF promotional videos). Building The Future may separately seek your consent prior to recording if you are to feature in the planned recording (e.g. speakers and participants in interviews or other audience engagement formats).

To help us form a better, overall understanding of you as a customer, we combine your personal data across analytics, website cookies, form submissions and chat functionality on the event platform. In order to do this, we also combine the data that we collect directly from you with data that we obtain from third parties from whom you have given your consent to pass that data onto us. If that combination allows you to be identified, we will treat the combined information as Personal Data for as long as it is combined.

Some of your data may be shared with third parties, and such sharing also occurs for different purposes and different legal grounds. Such shares will be better described in the next item, however, in summary:

Your data will be shared with the event sponsors to provide you with relevant connections and content during the Building The Future event based on your profile. Such sharing is necessary to comply with the terms and conditions of the event.

Images and videos of the event may be shared on social networks for the purpose of publicizing the event and based on our legitimate interest.

Imatch adopts the necessary procedures to ensure that the images shared, as a rule, are those obtained only from the event stage, that is, mainly images of the speakers and, sometimes, panoramic images showing the auditorium, so that it is not possible someone's identification. However, if you believe that any of the images allows you to be identified, we ask that you contact imatch and, if so, we will delete that image.

5.1 Sharing with other entities and third parties

We may share information with and about participants with other entities when necessary to pursue the intended purposes. These entities can be:

Data processors - companies that process your personal data on our behalf and under our responsibility. Such companies are contracted through a rigorous process and are under contract with us. Such contracts respect all the requirements established by article 28 of the RGPD.
